Quarterly Update

The second quarter brought steady progress across every team. Sales grew in each region, and the support desk answered most questions within a day.

Highlights

Our new warehouse opened in April and now ships orders the same afternoon they arrive. Customers noticed the change, and returns fell by a fifth.

The design group finished the spring catalogue two weeks early, which left time to photograph the autumn range before the summer break.

Next Steps

In the third quarter we will hire two engineers, move the billing system to the new servers and open a small office near the harbour.
